

Chimera Interior Design

Imagine the difference.

Our creative process: We listen to our clients, then contemplate how design can enhance their lives. Our work is contemporary and relevant, but never trendy. We understand that the beauty is in the details. Willing to integrate clients' existing pieces into a new design project, we mix custom furnishings with retail and to-the-trade finds to create visual interest with a manageable budget.

What we are known for: We pride ourselves on our exceptional communication skills, and are experts at helping clients prioritize needs and decide where to splurge and where to save. We are willing to take design risks, but not at the expense of the project. Now in our 16th year, our mission is to work together to create livable interiors while fulfilling a client's design needs in a simple, efficient and relaxed manner. From high-end residential design, to vacation homes and commercial spaces, each project is approached with creativity, passion, sophistication and an innate curatorial sense.
